Dear Laura Iturbide:

Austerity measures, political inertia and instability, and heightened geopolitical unrest continue to hamper an already fragile economic recovery.

At the IHS Forum, a special event that connects ideas, insight, and expertise on the core issues impacting global markets, IHS experts and guest speakers will explore Creating a Path to Recovery: Economic, Energy, and Industry Strategies as part of a robust, two-day agenda.

We invite you to register for the upcoming IHS Forum. Registrations to the IHS Forum will be taken on a first come, first served basis due to limited venue capacity.

Featured speakers include:

- Nariman Behravesh, Chief Economist, IHS
- Daniel Yergin, Vice Chairman, IHS
- Christopher Probyn, Chief Economist, State Street Global Advisors

Sessions focused on economics and country risk will address:

- When will spring come for the Eurozone?
- Will private-sector dynamism carry the US economy through fiscal headwinds?
- What are the prospects for the rise of China, India, and ASEAN as global economic powers?
- Can investment in infrastructure lead to a period of robust growth for Latin America?
- Should ongoing unrest in the Middle East and North Africa factor into your operating plans for the region?
- How will resource nationalism in Africa impact growth and business development opportunities?

The IHS Forum will offer a choice of more than 30 in-depth sessions on key industries and critical topics, including clean energy and climate change, automotive and chemical supply chains, aerospace & defense budgets, developments in key markets for electronics and media, and more. We hope you join us in Amsterdam next month to take advantage of diverse content sessions, increased access to IHS experts, and enhanced networking opportunities.
